CONFIGURE SOFTWARE ASSURANCE / ESPP

SOFTWARE ASSURANCE

Software Assurance (SWA) is NEC's software subscription and support program, specially designed to complement and protect NEC software licenses and systems. SWA enables your customer to receive all available software updates, service and security patches, and upgrades for an attractive subscription fee. With SWA, the customer gains the peace of mind of knowing they have access to NEC's technical experts, ensuring they get the best possible support throughout the lifetime of their investment. Click here to learn more about SWA and access SWA sales collateral.

Next New Software Assurance Quoting

Adding SWA to your new product quote is simple and easy. After adding your products to the quote, simply select the "Configure Software Assurance / ESPP" button on this Studio tab to access the configurator. This will allow you to choose the term and service level that makes sense for your new customer.

Software Assurance Renewal Quoting

In addition to quoting SWA on new systems, Studio also provides you with a SWA renewal quoting tool. Simply navigate to the Renewal tab in the Studio interface to access the tool.

4. Review and check the ESPP terms

If Associate is selling or offering, then current NEC Corporation of America (NEC) sponsored Extended System Protection Program (ESPP), a copy of the ESPP contract must be completed, signed by the Associate and by the Customer and kept on record by the Associate. By inclusion of ESPP within your quote, you certify that the Customer has read and accepted the terms of the Associate's existing ESPP. NEC reserves the right to ask to view or audit this paperwork at any time. All terms and conditions of the then current ESPP Limited Warranty Program Appendix apply.

Please check this box to confirm that you have read and agree to the note above ☒

What if I do not select ESPP for this configuration, will Studio add ESPP anyway since it's free?

No, it is necessary to select and accept ESPP for this configuration. Failure to do so will result in the ESPP not being applied to the configuration.

What happens to my quote after 03/31/2021

If the order is not placed by 03/31/2021 5:00 Central Time, the quote will be considered expired. Studio quotes reconfigured after 03/31/2021 will not receive the Free ESPP Promotional discount. Therefore, it's important to place your order by 03/31/2021.
